

WE CAN HELP! COVID-19 and Workplace Safety

Agri-food businesses have been diligent and flexible in adapting to COVID-19. As Ontario moves forward in the recovery, we must continue to follow public health guidance and adapt our protocols accordingly.

Governments are providing financial support to help farmers and agri-food workplaces manage and identify transmission risks to protect their workforces from COVID-19.

Through Workplace Safety & Prevention Services (WSPS), farmers and agri-food businesses can access professional advice and consulting services to help them with their COVID-19 needs. Your workplace may be eligible for two days of services tailored to your needs (worth $2,000 – paid for by the Canadian Agricultural Partnership). Available until February 28, 2022.

The following workplaces are eligible:

- Employers, farm sector organizations and farm associations
- Provincially licensed meat plants
- Other food processors who employ 1-49 employees

COVID-19 AND WORKPLACE SAFETY

Understand and Manage the Risks of COVID-19

We can help you adopt best practices, tools, technologies and processes through:

- Written COVID-19 workplace safety plans
- Complimentary resources available at wsps.ca, including sample Safety Plans
- COVID-19 response checklist
- COVID-19 response gap analysis
- COVID-19 response program development
- COVID-19 response policy and procedure development and training
- Assessing the workplace hazards related to COVID-19 and providing recommendations
- Review of controls and protocols related to preventing transmission of COVID-19
- How to support worker mental health during the COVID-19 pandemic
- Managing COVID-19 in shared accommodation

Also, a new online COVID-19 safety plan builder can be found at Ontario.ca/COVIDSafety, along with the existing safety plan guide and other helpful resources. The interactive platform can be used to develop custom COVID-19 safety plans.
